DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 07/29/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The amendment to the claims did not define over the prior rejection as seen below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 6-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Casey, II et al (USPAP 2004/0019375 A1) in view of Hoberman (4780344 or 5234727). Casey, II et al. disclose an implantable medical prosthesis for maintaining lumen patency with all the elements of claims 1 and 12 except for the pleats being formed about the radial direction of the graft See Figures 1 and 6 for a prosthesis (10) comprising a substantially cylindrical hollow body (11) having a distal end (14) and a proximal end (15). See [0005], [0025], [0026] and [0028] for the body (11) being formed from a self-supporting, non-metallic graft material and at least a portion of the graft material including a plurality of pleats (17) disposed in a Z pattern. The pattern provides radial support to the body (11) while maintaining flexibility in a tubular organ a distal anchor (61) having a substantially diamond shaped lattice structure formed from a self-expanding metallic material and a proximal anchor having a substantially diamond shaped lattice structure formed from a self-expanding metallic material [0031], the distal and proximal anchors having minimal overlap with the hollow body (only at the ends).

While Casey, II et al does not provide a profile comprising a geometric pattern including Z pleats in a combination of a radial and longitudinal pattern on the graft, Hoberman teaches forming a profile comprising a geometric pattern including Z pleats in both the radial and longitudinal direction of the tubular device to optimize the elongation and expansion of the device along the longitudinal axis thereof. It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to modify the pleats of Casey, II et al to extend both longitudinally and radially along the elongated axis of the tubular graft to allow for expansion in both the radial and longitudinal direction of the device.

Claims 6-8, see lines 4-6 of [0025] for the graft material being woven, non-woven or knitted.

Claims 9-11, see lines 18-20 of [0025] for the graft material including polyester, polypropylene or polyethylene.

Conclusion

This is a RCE of applicant's earlier Application No. 10/725147. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
